

Angela Garrett

May 29, 1979 - August 19, 2025

In loving memory of Angela Taylor Garrett, who graced our lives on May 29, 1979, in Talladega, Alabama, we bid farewell to an extraordinary soul whose light shone brightly among us. Angela, daughter of Ross Dye, Sr. and Clarissa Taylor Curry, and cherished by her beloved dad, Mr. Terry Curry, was called to her eternal home on August 19, 2025, at the age of 46.

From an early age, Angela embraced her faith, becoming a member of Shady Grove Missionary Baptist Church, where she found strength and community. A proud graduate of Munford High School in 1997, she embarked on a journey through various roles in the workforce, ultimately finding her passion in the logistics industry. Angela's essence was one of profound generosity and joy—her heart was always open to lend a hand to those in need.

As a devoted mother to her three sons, Michael Taylor, Sherman Garrett, and Jaylen Garrett, she was the cornerstone of her family, playing multiple roles to ensure love and unity prevailed. Angela was the life of every gathering, her laughter and vibrant spirit bringing cheer to every occasion. She had a sweet-hearted nature that inspired all who knew her, accompanied by an ambitious firecracker lifestyle that illuminated her surroundings. Whether reading, cooking, or dancing with abandon while cheering on her beloved Alabama Crimson Tide, Angela filled our lives with love and joy.

As we celebrate Angela's life, we remember her not just for her absence, but for the vivid memories and laughter she leaves behind. She is now reunited with her father, Ross Dye, Sr., her dad, Terry Curry, and her brother, Ross Dye, Jr., all of whom welcomed her with open arms.

She leaves her precious memories to forever be cherished by her three sons, Michael Taylor, Sherman Garrett, and Jaylen Garrett; loving mother, Clarissa Curry; brothers, Jackson and Jabo Jackson; sisters, Lakia Taylor, Janesha Curry, and Nikki Dye; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, other relatives, and friends.

Let us gather to remember a life well-lived, a heart well-loved, and a spirit that will continue to resonate in our hearts forever.
