“ I grew up with Orlando, we lived on the same street, McKleroy Avenue in Anniston. I played ball with him and Meicko all of our lives. We played organized ball and backyard ball, basically anywhere. Meicko was a little older than Orlando and I but he still played with us. He was no slouch in sports by any means. Orlando was a good friend to me before he became well known for his athletic ability and even after he became local famous, he was still a good friend even until this day. We didn't talk often in later years but anytime I ran into him, he was always very nice and would ask how my father and handicap brother were doing. Unfortunately, we had my father's funeral yesterday and I know Orlando would have hated to see that. My father took us to a few braves games when we were kids. Orlando and I were both class of 1990 at Anniston High school which was the awesome 1989 football team. I wasn't on that team but it made it a great senior year. We had a lot of talent on that team but in my opinion, Orlando was the best. He was the best athlete I have ever personally known and he was a good friend. He could do it all. Football, baseball, basketball, track, golf. He is a legend around here and I am very proud to have known him. I am very sorry to Meicko, Sammie, baby sister or any other relatives I may be leaving out.

I was deeply saddened to learn of Mr. Walters' passing. Growing up in Anniston, Alabama, I had the privilege of knowing him early on he was few years younger than me but live in the same neighborhood. Years later, after entering the Military service, I unexpectedly ran into Orlando in Seattle, Washington. At the time, I had no idea he was an NFL player playing for the Seattle Seahawks, and it brought me immense pride to see someone from my hometown Anniston, Alabama reach the big leagues. Rest in peace, Orlando. May God keep you forever in His grace. It was a true pleasure to have known you.
