“ Tracy Brown lit a candle in memory of Sandra Wilson

“ To my Grandmother, God makes no mistakes I know you are in a better place now. I will always cherish the memories I have of you. Knowing that everytime I came around, you always tell me to come get anything I want from you. Only because I wasn't always around and lived up town close to you. You never could remember my name, you always called me "Travon" then Tre'Sean. But you knew it was wrong so when you got it right you would give me a Big Hug and say I'm sorry "Travon" 😊 and we would start laughing. Those are the memories I will cherish forever of you Grandmother. You will be truly missed. Love you forever,
Your Grandson

“ My deepest condolences to the Brown, Wilson and Garrett families. May God comfort you all with all the strength you'll need during your time of bereavement. May he shine light upon you during your dark days ahead. I hope you find much comfort in knowing that God is with you, and will never leave your side. I do realize there's nothing nobody can say that would heal your broken hearts, rejoice in knowing that her journey here on earth has ended and she's no longer suffering with the illness and pains which hindered her. Have joy in knowing that Diane loved each and everyone of you. Mrs. Garrett was a fun loving person and she will be missed..... R.I.P. Diane...
