“ Bo, I was only three when you were born and honestly do not remember mom and dad bringing you home. But, fast forward just a couple of years later and I have two of the funniest memories of our very young lives. One, me putting a dress on you (👗😂) when we lived in Hanford village. Second, you sitting patiently on the stairs while I cut your hair 🧑🏾♀️🧑🏾♀️🧑🏾♀️. Another memory is of you (maybe age 4-5) running around the laundromat after being told to stop 😊! You ran into an open dryer door and you are being buried today with that scar on your forehead.

Bo, I love you so much bro and cannot imagine what life is going to be like without you. You rest peacefully. Watch over me till we are together again.

Goodnight Bo. 💔❤️🙏
